CHEVROLET ASCOT STAR IN WONDERFUL DRIVE

Sets the Crowd Wild by Coming from Behind in Ten-mile Handicap.

THIRTY THOUSAND wild-eyed gasoline bugs certainly had something to be thankful for yesterday. The ten-mile handicap race at Ascot Speedway had everybody cheering and shouting like a fever on a chilly morning and Louis Chevrolet could have had anything in the place of charge after his wonderful drive.

When they all tore past the grand stand for the first time the Frontenac was spluttering and backfiring like an ordinary car's touring car when it is being driven at a high speed. It was rapidly picking up on the Frontenac. It looked as though the Frontenac was going to disappear again.

Who's On The Turkey Trail

WHEN United States Judge Trippe was asked the fat question of what he did on Thanksgiving he answered, "To the races." "The Juana" followed the reporter, "Law," said the judge, "Ascot Park."

Judge B. F. Hildesoe of the local Federal bench under his own vine and fig tree at No. 501 South Alexandria avenue, sat down to the discussion of a fat family and well-proportioned turkey, and no mention for leave to amend was entertained.

United States Marshal Walton, at his apartments on West Tenth street, returned thanks that there is at this time no candidate in sight for his job, the first term of which expires in the early spring, and that Congressman Denver Church of the Fourth district is still his good friend.

J. Robert O'Connor, acting United States Attorney, dined at his South Pasadena home, and later in the day journeyed to the Raymond golf course, with his caddy, and tried to make a record putting. O'Connor, at the same time hoping that during the opening day of Congress next week his name will be sent to the Senate for confirmation as the real United States Attorney.

Rushion H. Charlton, supervisor of the Angeles National Forest, after hovering with a goose at the family board on the West side, made a trip to his orange grove in the vicinity of Fontana, to see how the last crop of his monthly salary check is being applied.

John D. Roche, Register of the local Land Office, invested in a big Plymouth Rock rooster, and there were all sorts of sats at the family home on Brent street. His collaborator, Alex Mitchell, had a turkey dinner at the home of his brother, and all rules for the conservation of food were suspended during the day.

William Van Dyke, clerk of the United States District Court, stayed at home all day, and, while partaking of the feast, he was friends in Santa Ana, returning thanks for the fact that the fees are keeping up fairly well in spite of the war. He is said to have given an imitation of the late Bob Burdette, and the oratory of Col. Robert Green Ingersoll, both of whom were old friends of the Commissioner in Illinois years ago, while asking for "another bit of the white meat, ah, yes, and a slice of the dark," during the discussion over the viands.

C. L. Keep, special agent of the Department of Justice, thanked his state that things are so much more pleasant here than in that dear old San Diego, and expressed the wonder why the department did not send him to Los Angeles long ago. He dined at home.

Capt. Charles T. Connell, immigration agent in charge, is en route to Seattle, and in a dining car noted how the portions have been reduced, with a corresponding increase in price.

Collector John P. Carter dined in San Francisco, and there was probably a discussion of the chances of Germany in the war.

Paul Hammond, member of the local financial house of Hammond & Stevens, and son of Cashier W. T. S. Hammond of the First National Bank, spent Thanksgiving with his parents. Mr. Hammond attended the second officers' training camp at the Presidio, and is now a first lieutenant in the service of his country.

R. E. Wold, vice-president of the Tom Reed Mines Company, and representative of the company, returned to his family at home in the city.

Judge Louis W. Myers dined with his family at his home, No. 8217 Lemongrove drive. His guests were Dr. Frank Gordon, Mrs. Adelle Gordon and James Long.

Judge Frank R. Willis gathered around his board his family which included his sons and their wives, not to speak of the grandchild. The turkey was carved at No. 114 North Johnson street.

Judge James C. Rives had several of his best turkeys plucked for the family that gathered around his board in Downey. His own family, his sons and their wives and relatives made a merry party as well as one full of thankfulness, tinged with sorrow, however, for the war's carnage.

Judge Grant Jackson, the only bachelor judge on the bench, dined as usual at the Union League Club last evening. Many invitations were extended to him to dine in homes.

Judge Frederick Houser set a plentiful board in his Alhambra home, not omitting a thought for the boys at the front.

Judge Gavin W. Craig dined at his home, No. 145 Virgil street, with his family.

Judge Frank Flinzyan relaxed from his judicial grind to carve the turkey for his family at his residence, No. 500 South Gramercy place.

Judge Sidney N. Reeve dedicated a turkey for himself and his family at his home, No. 950 Gramercy drive.

Judge Curtis D. Wilbur dined with his family and relatives at his home, No. 422 South Alvarado street.

Judge Charles Monroe and Mrs. Monroe assisted in the great Thanksgiving dinner served the army and navy men at the Los Angeles Country Club.

Judge L. H. Valentine dined with his family at his residence, No. 515 South Alvarado street.

Judge Paul J. McCormick was at a special seat at the annual dinner which remained in camp from choice because to a soldier there is no place more like home than an army mess room on a holiday with a spread like that which graced the tables of the rough camp yesterday. Thanksgiving is always a great day in an army post and yesterday was no exception to the rule at Fort McArthur.

The menu provided a choice of delicious soups, salads, entrées, vegetables, desserts and drinks with extras that included a variety of fruits and nuts. Nothing was lacking to satisfy the most fastidious appetite even to cigars and cigarettes.

The first four companies quartered on the upper reservation are largely made up of regulars who have been in the service for several years and the call for mess found more of them in their places. On the lower reservation nearly ninety per cent. of the men and officers were granted liberty for Thanksgiving, most of the men having been recruited in Los Angeles and nearby towns where they have their homes. Only enough men were retained for guard and police duty.

At the naval training station all the men who desired shore liberty were also granted leave of absence. Several hundred from the training station were entertained in Los Angeles homes. There were about 400 men left at the station to enjoy the spread that had been prepared there. Nearly as many were seated at the submarine base.

Here is the menu which was served:

ter's wife. The family dinner was given at his residence, No. 1435 Laurel avenue, South Pasadena. Judge John M. York and family dined with the former's father, former Judge Waldo M. York, at Twenty-second and Burlington streets.

Judge Louis W. Myers dined with his family at his home, No. 8217 Lemongrove drive. His guests were Dr. Frank Gordon, Mrs. Adelle Gordon and James Long.

Judge Frank R. Willis gathered around his board his family which included his sons and their wives, not to speak of the grandchild. The turkey was carved at No. 114 North Johnson street.

Judge James C. Rives had several of his best turkeys plucked for the family that gathered around his board in Downey. His own family, his sons and their wives and relatives made a merry party as well as one full of thankfulness, tinged with sorrow, however, for the war's carnage.

Judge Grant Jackson, the only bachelor judge on the bench, dined as usual at the Union League Club last evening. Many invitations were extended to him to dine in homes.

Judge Frederick Houser set a plentiful board in his Alhambra home, not omitting a thought for the boys at the front.

Judge Gavin W. Craig dined at his home, No. 145 Virgil street, with his family.

Judge Frank Flinzyan relaxed from his judicial grind to carve the turkey for his family at his residence, No. 500 South Gramercy place.

Judge Sidney N. Reeve dedicated a turkey for himself and his family at his home, No. 950 Gramercy drive.

Judge Curtis D. Wilbur dined with his family and relatives at his home, No. 422 South Alvarado street.

Judge Charles Monroe and Mrs. Monroe assisted in the great Thanksgiving dinner served the army and navy men at the Los Angeles Country Club.

Judge L. H. Valentine dined with his family at his residence, No. 515 South Alvarado street.

which remained in camp from choice because to a soldier there is no place more like home than an army mess room on a holiday with a spread like that which graced the tables of the rough camp yesterday. Thanksgiving is always a great day in an army post and yesterday was no exception to the rule at Fort McArthur.

The menu provided a choice of delicious soups, salads, entrées, vegetables, desserts and drinks with extras that included a variety of fruits and nuts. Nothing was lacking to satisfy the most fastidious appetite even to cigars and cigarettes.

The first four companies quartered on the upper reservation are largely made up of regulars who have been in the service for several years and the call for mess found more of them in their places. On the lower reservation nearly ninety per cent. of the men and officers were granted liberty for Thanksgiving, most of the men having been recruited in Los Angeles and nearby towns where they have their homes. Only enough men were retained for guard and police duty.

At the naval training station all the men who desired shore liberty were also granted leave of absence. Several hundred from the training station were entertained in Los Angeles homes. There were about 400 men left at the station to enjoy the spread that had been prepared there. Nearly as many were seated at the submarine base.

Here is the menu which was served:

BEVERAGES: Green olive, Pineapple juice, Orange juice, Lemonade, Soda water, Beer, Wine, Coffee, Tea.

SOUPS: Chicken soup, Beef soup, Pork soup, Lamb soup, Mutton soup, Veal soup, Turkey soup, Fish soup, Shellfish soup, Vegetable soup, Fruit soup, Noodle soup, Macaroni soup, Potato soup, Corn soup, Bean soup, Lentil soup, Pea soup, Turnip soup, Cabbage soup, Cauliflower soup, Eggplant soup, Zucchini soup, Pumpkin soup, Squash soup, Melon soup, Watermelon soup, Cantaloupe soup, Honeydew soup, Strawberry soup, Raspberry soup, Blueberry soup, Blackberry soup, Elderberry soup, Mulberry soup, Fig soup, Peach soup, Plum soup, Apple soup, Pear soup, Quince soup, Guava soup, Kiwifruit soup, Passion fruit soup, Dragon fruit soup, Pomegranate soup, Olive soup, Walnut soup, Chestnut soup, Hazelnut soup, Almond soup entertained a few young army officers, including her son, Warner, who was at Camp Kearny with a regiment of old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner. Ella and Hanthorne, Neavans, spent Thanksgiving with her son, Robert Hanthorne, who is stationed at Camp Ellis Kathleen Sheron, No. 1829 St. Andrew's place, arranged a magnificent Thanksgiving party in honor of her brother, Lieut. John, who is just home from France.

ENTERTAIN SAILORS

A sailor laddie away from home was invited to have Thanksgiving dinner at Mrs. C. J. Helm, No. 3555 Elmhurst. There were six other guests besides him, and a good time was had by all.

The members of the family of Mr. F. W. Taylor, No. 348 Adams street, gave a very nice Thanksgiving dinner to Edward Cray Taylor, of the Engineering Corps, who is stationed at Ft. Belknap.

To enter the above-mentioned contest, write your name on a card and send it to William H. Kutzler, at Arbuckle.

CHURCHES OBSERVE DAY OF THANKS.

SIMPLE BUT IMPRESSIVE SERVICES HELD IN LOCAL HOUSES OF WORSHIP.

Attendance at all houses of public worship was large yesterday forenoon. Names were celebrated in the Catholic churches of the city, with Thanksgiving sermons by the pastors. Rev. Father Brady preached the sermon at St. Vibiana's Cathedral.

The Thanksgiving service was held in Temple Israel B'nai B'rith, where the Jewish congregation united with the liberal churches of Los Angeles in one service. Among those participating in this service were Dr. Sigmund Hecht and Rabbi Edgar P. Magnin of the Temple.

Royald E. Higgs of the Church of the People, Rev. E. Stanton Hodgins of the First Unitarian Church, Dr. C. Ellwood Nash of the First Unitarian Church and Rev. C. C. Pierce. A fine musical programme was presented under the direction of Erskine Mead.

The churches affiliating with the Church Federation of Los Angeles were divided into districts and district services were held at central points, each of these being largely attended. Special services were held in several of the downtown missions.

NEBRASKAN DIES HERE. Pitts H. Hopkins, a wealthy Nebraska farmer, passed away last night at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. E. H. Cowan, No. 1608 McCadden place, Hollywood. He was 60 years of age.

He was born in Livingston county, New York, 34 years ago, and had been spending his winters in Southern California for the past several years. There will be a brief service at the Gates & Crane chapel tomorrow and the body will be taken to Teaneuch, Mo., for burial.

Al Levy was the host at his Springfield cafe to thirty children of the Jewish Orphan Home. A noon Thanksgiving dinner was served, including cream of chicken soup, roasted turkey and cranberry sauce, apples, nuts and pie. At the close of the meal James Slipper of the Slipper Moving Picture Supply House, showed in the dining-room the fascinating film picture for children, "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp."

Frank B. Silverwood sent a one-pound box of candy for each child. "Duck on the Bill" took the place of the time-honored turkey at the Los Angeles Orphan's Home. A dinner of rich beef steaks, mulligan, vegetables, buns, pumpkin pie, apples, grapes and coffee was served.

In the City Jail 150 prisoners were given an extra dinner, although the regular Thanksgiving Day dinner was given a week ago, when a San Pedro rancher donated 250 pounds of turkey. A feature of Thanksgiving Day at the City Jail was the presentation of freedom to Gene Smith. She was released on parole because of her help in suppressing a riot a few days ago.

CLINE AS HOST. County Jail inmates yesterday feasted on roast pork and turkey, thanks to the generosity of Sheriff J. C. Cline. He gave instructions to Jailier George Gallagher to serve the best Thanksgiving dinner in the annals of the jail. The pie, numbering 150, were furnished gratis by Mrs. Fannie King, head of the local W.C.T.U.

The tank prisoners were served with roast pork. The others, including the women in the female department, under the care of Mrs. G. W. Sheel, had turkey, beef, corn, also gave each woman prisoner a small bouquet of flowers, to which was attached a card containing a Biblical quotation.

The dinner, served at noon, consisted of the following: Cream of tomato soup, celery and olives, roast pork or turkey, dressing with gravy, mashed Irish potatoes, roast sweet potatoes, hot mince pie, pudding, ice cream, grapes and coffee.

The dinner was prepared by D. Gilbert, former chef at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. It is the first time in years that a Thanksgiving dinner was not prepared by a professional cook. More than 100 pounds of pork and an equal amount of turkey were consumed. Of the attack of the jail say it was the finest Thanksgiving dinner served in the county within their recollection.

Many Unfortunates Share in the Day of Bounty.

Thanksgiving good cheer was abundant yesterday, not only in the private home, but in public institutions as well. Inviting and appetizing spreads were provided for the various orphanages and old people's homes, and the unfortunates who had to spend the day in jails also found their portion of the feast of the holiday.

film carried scenes which were not in it when they witnessed it officially. They allege that objectionable features were placed back into the reels after they had been censored.

"The Spirit of '76" was first shown in Chicago several months ago. At that time Maj. Funkhouser, chairman of the board of motion pictures for Chicago, raised an objection and had the performance stopped.

"Last night the producers asked Mr. O'Connor what there was objectionable about the show."

"Anybody with a spark of patriotism in him would know that by taking one look at the picture," was the reply.

"Don't you know that if you stop the exhibition of the film it means financial ruin for many people?" pleaded Mr. Goldstein.

"We will not discuss that matter," said Mr. O'Connor.

It will be possible for the producer to secure affidavits and call for a hearing before the censor if he desires to attempt to gain possession of the picture again. If the writ issued by Judge Bledsoe yesterday is upheld the film will probably be confiscated upon order from the Department of Justice.

The Red Cross Chapter House and the 3rd Cage Auxiliary at the Alexandria have both taken on very artistic appearances. It is like a house of wonder to wander through the chapter house and see so many different departments and to learn of the various ways in which humanity is being helped because of it. Everything, be it new or not, is sold at most moderate prices. There is a vegetable stall, a place where boys, chickens and Belgian hares are sold, a pet shop, walls for boys and cunning dolls, wear-able jewelry, diamonds, pearls and old things, jewelry and jewelry, a bargain counter, needlework section and gift department, where the latest Christmas things imaginable can be found at the lowest prices; there are lovely and handsome pictures, books, a toy department, shoe department, the tea shop and many other departments. It is a treat to visit the place, as every one doing business there is in a combination of place and see just what is being done. There is also a melting pot, where odd old pieces of gold, silver and platinum are sent.

The net receipts at the Red Cross Chapter House average $200 a day. During the month of October the net receipts were $7988.77 and this month so far it is $4748. There is practically no expense in running the place, as every one donating their services and all the articles sold are donations. The only expense is for lights, telephone and for janitor services and heat.

Miss Daisy Danziger and several of her friends, all students in the Westlake School, gave a very pretty dance last night in the ballroom of the Red Cross Chapter House. The decorations were roses and other flowers and palms.

There were 100 guests, the men all being sailor lads. The young girls charged 15 cents a couple and as a result will turn in quite a nice little "bit" to the Red Cross.

Red Cross Announcements.

The following announcements have been made by the management of the Red Cross ship and tea-room: Give your old shoes to the Red Cross Shop. They will thus make money for the Red Cross and will be put in the hands of those who need them most. Telephone Home 6864 or Wilshire 840.

Every Wednesday there is a Red Cross Rummage and used clothes sale at the Bronson settlement house.

First aid, home nursing and first aid classes are being formed every day at No. 732 South Hill street.

Soldier Song Day.

The songs that the American soldier boys are singing in camp, on transport and at the front in France will be sung today in their mother's, wives, sweethearts and sisters at the Red Cross shop and tea-room.

It is to be soldier song day, and Herbert Wolf, personal representative of Leo Flinn, will render "Over There." "It's a Long Way to Berlin, But We'll Get There Just the Same," and other patriotic and popular songs. There will be a number of tea parties, refreshments for which have already been made.

Hundreds Have Joined Our Free Classes in Knitting

Daily from 9:30 to 4:30

—Hundreds of enthusiastic women and girls, whose friends or relatives are "Doing Their Bit" in the Liberty Army, have come to us and learned to knit.

The Knitting Yarn Adopted by the Red Cross for U. S. Army Sweaters

—Because "Our Boys" must have the best of everything, the RED CROSS has chosen this very superior quality of yarn for the many articles the soldiers need.

—Needless to say this is all wool and makes the warmest garment possible.

—You may have this yarn in—

Khaki Color

—Oxford

Gray

—The colors that are generally used for knitted garments for the soldier and sailor boys—just when these colors are so very difficult to secure, too.

Sweaters, Socks, Wristlets, Scarfs, Helmets

—And many other things for the soldier and sailor boys.

—The knitting proves quite simple when one has a competent instructor. Ask the women who have attended our Free Knitting Classes—they are enthusiastic about them!
